A photograph of a pergola on a patio. The pergola has a dark frame and a roof with light-colored slats. Underneath, there is a wicker outdoor sofa with cushions and a table. The patio is paved, and there is a lawn in the foreground. The background shows a house with a stucco finish and a clear sky.

PERGOLA

Pergolas have become an important part of the landscape, because of their importance in protecting from sunlight, and the percentage of shade they provide, in addition to the aesthetic they add to the place.
